What the Editor of the Texas Citizen says of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin:

HONEY GROVE, TEX., June 7, 1900.

I have during the past two years been seriy affected with stomach trouble, and in February, 1900, saw an ad which advocated the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for such trouble. I endeavored to secure the remedy in Texas, but failed, and while at Guthrie, O. T., purchased several bottles, which I kept in my house. As to my own trouble, the first bottle did the work and I am taking my three square meals per day without any of the bad results which had heretofore been bothering me. I can cheerfully recommend to the public Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin Respectfuly, ED. H. LOVE.

DECISION IN FAVOR OF WEBSTER GROVES

Supreme Court Pronounces Charter and Extension of Limits Valid-Officials Plan Improvements.

Residents of Webster Groves are rejole ing greatly because Judge Robinson of the Missouri Supreme Court on banc yesterday morning at Jefferson City handed down a decision which settles the controversy regarding the validity of its original charter and the extension of the town limits, in favor of the town.

Since the extension of the town's limits were decided upon four years ago the charter of the suburb has been in danger, as the property owners in the annexed territory opposed the extension, because, they claimed, new taxes would be burdened upon them. Charles S. Reber, who owned property just outside of the limits of the original town instigated the movement which caused Attorney General Crow to bring suit questioning the original incorporation of Webster Groves granted by the County Judge Robinson's decision is very momentous to Webster Groves, as the town has practically been unable to institute any municipal improvements because the great-er portion of the taxes could not be col-lected, for the taxpayers questioned the legality of such action until the sult in the Supreme Court was finally decided, Up-on yesterday's decision hinged many sults taxes that have hung fire and that will !

probably be tried. Webster Groves, with its newly-acquired addition, includes Old Orchard, part of Tuxedo, part of Shrewsbury and all of Seima. Its population is considerably more than 5,000. It is purposed by the citizens to have waterworks erected, a new electric light plant built, and to improve the light plant built, and to improve the streets. And the town will now be able to dispose of its water bonds, which were voted at the election held in 1895. Mayor W. S. Fleming and City Clerk Moody were very enthusiastic over the town's success yesterday when the news was received and they prophesy all sorts of glittering things for Webster Groves when the World's Fair year comes around.

Webster Groves real estate will also boom now with the improvements and the assurance that there will be no more litigation.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 13.—Yale will educate five Filipinos, provided young men of exceptional fitness and high character be selected by Judge Taft or the Panippine Commission.

This announcement came from Secretary Reverend Anson Phelps Stokes, Jr., after the Yale University corporation adjourned its autumn session late to-day.

Free tuition will be given to the five Filipinos who present themselves at the opening of the next academic year just before the blcentennial celebration. The corporation hopes by this pioneer work to induce the Civil Service Commission in Washington to make an effort to secure the cooperation of leading American colleges in a general plan to do for the Filipinos just what was done a number of years ago for the young Chinese and the young Japanese who were educated at Yale. The influence of Judge Taft, who is himself a Yale alumnus, class of 1879, is seen in this movement.

On.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL New York, Nov. 13 .- The news that the life work of Dwight L. Moody is to be taken up by the Reverend Campbell Morgan of London has been favorably received by all those who heard Mr. Morgan preach when he was in New York. He is a speaker of magnetic power.

The information that Mr. Morgan has been invited to come to this country by Will Moody, son of the dead evangelist, was made public to-day. The invitation is seconded by the trustees of the Moody

Mr. Morgan recently was invited to take publican management, even though it be unnecessary to swell their large majority. Referring to similar work of the Republicans in this respect, the Washington Post, an independent Republican paper, calls a halt. It says:

"Now that the Republicans have so large a majority assured in the next Congress, surely they will be content with what they have and spare their friends and well-wishers a repetition of the disgraceful scandals which have so shocked and grieved them in the past. It is no longer necessary or even prudent to seat contesting Republicans, especially those who have been notoriously defeated and whose minorities cannot be impeached in common sense or reason. The party has a large working force-perhaps as large as can be safely handled—and even if all other things were equal, the propriety of increasing it would at least be doubtful. Let us hope that decency will be respected in the Fifty-seventh Congress.

"We have in mind the case of Doctor Richard A. Wise of the Second Virginia District, who was seated in the Fifty-fifth and Forty-sixth congresses by a purely partisan vote, and in defiance of all justice and fair dealing. The facts are so flagrant that they call for no review at this late day. No one acquainted with the circumstances ever doubted for an instant that William A. Young, Doctor Wise's competitor, had been legitimately elected." up a work that is very different from that done by Mr. Moody. When the Reverend Doctor John Hall, pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, died, the congregation settled upon Mr. Morgan, and it was practically announced that he would accept. Then there was a breach in the neotiations. The difference between the work lone by Doctor John Hall and by Evangelist Moody is radical. Doctor Hall had a wealthy congregation Moody ministered to the ragged and the hopcless. It is said that Mr. Moody, on nopciess. It is said that Mr. Moody, on looking over the field, decided he preferred to make his efforts among the poor and lowly, that being a field which appealed to him. "rather." he was quited as saying, "than in preaching to millionaries." Mr. Morgan is only 57 years old. When

Mr. Morgan sold he began to preach. He showed a wonderfully precoclous eloquence, which developed into a ripe, brilliant oratory in later years. His first pastorate was in the wicked city of Hull. Mr. Moody took a great liking to Mr. Morgan and invited him to Northfield, Mass., where he addressed meetings. Dur-ing his visit to this country, Mr. Morgan preached with great success at Doctor John Hall's church.

At present Mr. Morgan is paster of the New Court Congregational Church in London, a church 300 years old.

NO MONEY TO MEET EXPENSES.

Vouchers for Small Contracts, Aggregating $30,000, Unpaid-Total Shortage About $500,000 -No Remedy in Sight.

Although the municipal fluancial year b carcely more than half gone, there is already a deficit in the City Treasury of about half a million dollars, and present indications warrant the belief that Comptroller Sturgeon's prediction that a deficit of a million and a quarter dollars will exist by next April will be more than fulfilled. The present actual shortage does not amount to $50,000, because the Ways and Means Committee of the Municipal Assembly managed to conceal the real condition by failing to make certain large appropriations. Vouchers tendered to Comptroller Sturgeon and Auditor Mason show a deficit at this day of more than $50,000, but the books of various municipal departments, which contain the true story of St. Louis's dilemma, demonstrate positively that the genuine shortage, which has been hidden by the omission of legislation, is about half a million dollars.

Comptroller Sturgeon has invited Mayor Ziegenhein, Chairman Carroll of the Coursell Ways and Means Committee and Chairman Hartmann of the House Ways and Means Committee to meet him next week to seriously consider the deplorable state of finances, with the object of evolving some method for relief. Mr. Sturgeon realizes that the city is confronted by a more intricate and puzzling problem than local politicians are willing to concede. It is known to only a few persons that a number known to only a few persons that a number of departments are at this time in sore need of money. In fact, Auditor Mason has youghers, to the amount of the control of the c vouchers to the amount of $30,000 for bills already contracted and for which there are no funds in the City Treasury.

These bills cover expenses for the care of foundlings, for the repair account of the Quarantine and Smallpox Hospital, for inbor at the House of Refuge, for dry goods at the Poorhouse, for expenses for the Coroner and the morsue, for expenses in some of the courts, for maintenance of Lyon Park, for expenses for the Board of Engineers and Boiler Inspector, for macadam-street repairs, and for expenses in the Department of Public Buildings. These vouchers represent an existing shortage of $20,000, an indebtedness really incurred and for which no provisions for payment have been made.

for which no provisions for payment have been made.

Comptroller Sturgeon, Auditor Mason and Treasurer Scudder are powerless to "-medy the evil, as they can merely explain and advise. It devolves upon the Municipal Assembly, and particularly on the Ways and Means Committee, to create a means. Defraud.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 13.—The contest over the Topeka group of mines in Russell Gulch, Gilpin County, is being argued before Judge Hallett In the Federal Court.

Henry B, Lowe, Tyson S, Dines et al. are charged by Arthur J, Richardson and Jennie H. Richardson with having sold the Topeka group under felse pretenses and misrepresentations. The contract price was $355,000, of which $162,500 cash was paid by the Richardsons October 26, 1829, according to their complaint, and they claim that the mine is practically worthless, having been worked out before the sate.

In a cross bill the defendants ask judgment for $162,500, with interest at 10 per cent, since October 26, 1839.

A conspiracy is alleged to have been formed by Lowe and Dines with the indirect aid of Townsend, to defraud the Richardsons and induce them to purchase an exhausted mine.

He did not go to the place, nor was he expected there. When his wife called at the drug store she was told that her husband was not known to any one in the store.

In a farewell letter to his wife and baby,

Russell says that drink and gambling uined him, and he threatened to drown himself. Mrs. Russell does not think he carried his threat into execution. The leter is as follows:

to his home to collect a debt and frightened his wife into hysteries by flourishing a revolver. The next day she came to him in the field and again flourished a revolver. He had her arrested and succeeded in obtaining an indictment against her by the St. Charles County Grand Jury last spring. It seems that Snyder does not deny responsibility for the debt, but one of the reasons that he would not pay it at the time was that Mrs. McConnell had so frightened his wife the evening before as to incapacitate her, thereby forcing him to cook his supper.

Airs, McConnell has been separated from Mrs. Russell said that she was surprised. Mrs. Russell said that she was surprised Yesterday morning Mrs. Russell received by mail four $1 bills inclosed in an envelope of Frank Carr, a bookmaker. Mrs. Russell reasoned from this that her he-band must have played the races. When searching for her husband Mrs. Russell called at the Meyer Bros.' Drug Company, where she thought he was employed, and learned that he had lost his position at that place two months ago. During that time Mr. Russell left the house every day and returned to supper. He told his wife that he was doing relief work for Meyer Bros. and that he was frequently sent to various drug stores. When he left home Saturday afternoon Russell kissed his wife and baby good-by and went out. He came back and kissed the baby again. Mrs. Russell did not attach any importance to that action, she
